

Kirby R. Gross
COL, MC, US Army

Director, Army Trauma Training Detachment

Ryder Trauma Center

Miami FL

Disclosures

Kirby Gross COL MC has no relevant financial or non-financial interests to disclose.

No discussion of products will be made in this presentation.

This continuing education activity is managed and accredited by AffinityCE in collaboration with AMSUS. AffinityCE and AMSUS staff as well as Planners and Reviewers, have no relevant financial or non-financial interests to disclose.

Commercial Support was not received for this activity

The opinions or assertions contained herein are the private views of the author and are not to be construed as official or as reflecting the views of the Department of the Army or the Department of Defense.

How To Claim CE Credit

- If you would like to receive continuing education credit for this activity, please visit:

amsus.cds.pesgce.com

Military Perspective – Impact on Mission Readiness

- Value of clinical expertise emphasized to teams
- Team members with little clinical experience are given clinical opportunities
- Frequently the first opportunity for clinical care to be conducted as a team
- Clinical leaders are informed as to processes to incorporate into deployed routine

What percentage of your workday involves patient care?

Military Perspective – Impact on Mission Readiness

- Value of clinical expertise emphasized to teams
- Team members with little clinical experience are given clinical opportunities
- Frequently the first opportunity for clinical care to be conducted as a team
- Clinical leaders are informed as to processes to incorporate into deployed routine