

AMSUS Annual Awards Program

AMSUS - The Society of Federal Health Professionals honors the contributions of outstanding federal healthcare professionals each year through the Awards Program.

The awards are presented during the Association's Annual Continuing Education Meeting at its Annual Banquet. Each recipient will be presented their award personally by the leadership of their agency and the AMSUS Executive Director. We strongly encourage nominations of deserving individuals for these awards.

AMSUS members participate as volunteer reviewers and independently score each completed submission. Scores are tabulated, and the awardee is determined by the highest score.

Nomination Process

The nomination process takes place electronically through the AMSUS website <https://www.amsus.org/professional-development/amsus-awards-program/>. Nominations will be accepted 1 March – 17 July 2020. The deadline will not be extended. All nominations must be submitted in the online submission portal.

In addition to the required information found within the portal for each award category, nominations require a biography/resume/CV (no more than 3 pages in length) and letter of recommendation from the individual's organization/agency be uploaded. Individuals selected to receive awards will be notified by 14 September 2020.

For more detailed guidance on how to submit a nomination, please review the FAQ document posted on the website.

Executive Director's General Guidance for Award Nominations:

1. NOMINATIONS SHOULD BE BRIEF. Descriptions of activities or accomplishments which do not bear on the award should not be included because they can distract reviewers from the central accomplishments.
2. ACCOMPLISHMENTS SHOULD BE TIMELY. Unless otherwise stated, AMSUS awards are designed to recognize accomplishments within the past 12-18 months or so, rather than lifetime or career.
3. NOMINATION SHOULD BE EASY TO READ, best accomplished by using SIMPLE DECLARATIVE SENTENCES.
4. BULLETIZING MAJOR POINTS helps break up the clutter and increases legibility.
5. SIGNIFICANCE OF ACCOMPLISHMENTS, IMPACT/RESULTS ON ORGANIZATION/ORGANIZATIONAL PERFORMANCE OR VALUE ADDED TO PATIENTS, OR OTHER CONSUMERS should be highlighted.
6. DON'T MAKE IT A DAUNTING TASK – focus on the important points and let other details go.

FINALLY, GOOD NOMINATIONS WRITE THEMSELVES. If you are not certain an individual really is worthy of the award, sit down, describe the accomplishments, list the importance of those actions, and what you have written will speak for itself.

Executive Advisory Council Awards

The Rising Star, Innovator and Lifetime Achievement are the AMSUS Premier Awards. The nomination process originates with the Executive Advisory Council.

Online nominations for these three awards are forwarded to the appropriate Executive Advisory Council member for their selection of the best candidate from their constituency. Members of the Executive Advisory Council involved in selecting their top candidate for the three awards are Executive in Charge of the Veterans Health Administration, US Surgeon General, each of the three Service's Surgeons General, the Director of the Defense Health Agency, Chief Medical Officer Department of Homeland Security, and the President of the Uniformed Services University. We also include the Joint Staff Surgeon in the group, resulting in the maximum number of nominations for each of the three awards to be nine (9). Reserve and National Guard nominations for these three awards will be submitted through their service's Surgeon General.

Selection: The selection of these award recipients rests with the Awards Committee Chair with concurrence of the AMSUS Board of Directors.

Rising Star Award - This award is given to an individual who, early in their career, has demonstrated success in federal or VA healthcare delivery or management which has placed them on an ascending path to an executive leadership role.

Eligibility: O-5, E-7, GS-14 and below.

Criteria: The individual has demonstrated excellence and achievement in their initial assignments as well as one to five years' healthcare leadership experience. Nominees must meet one or more of the following criteria:

- Outstanding work and professional activities in healthcare or administration
- Development of notable innovations on the job
- Active participation in healthcare organization, association, and leadership programs
- Promotes the value of healthcare professionals

Innovator Award - This award recognizes an individual who has made outstanding contributions to military or federal medicine by developing and/or implementing novel approaches to overcome complex and persistent challenge(s) in health care delivery and/or readiness. It is through innovation that organizations are able to adapt to the changing requirements and without the "innovator" organizations fail to take advantage of opportunities.

Eligibility: O-6, E-9, GS-15 or below.

Criteria:

1. Significant accomplishment(s) in the last 12-18 months warranting AMSUS recognition.
2. Evidence that those accomplishments had a meaningful impact on their mission or organization.

Lifetime Achievement Award - This award marks a distinguished career of consistent excellence and is given to honor an individual who has made significant fundamental contributions to federal healthcare, either through a single transcendent act or a body of work. These contributions, whether they have been in leadership, clinical achievement, or mentorship must have had a lasting impact on federal healthcare and demonstrated a lifetime commitment to advancing healthcare quality and efficacy.

Eligibility: O-6 (GS15), E-8 or civilian equivalent and above.

Criteria: Candidates for this award are living role models and inspirational to others in the fields of healthcare delivery and administration. Their life-long careers in development, invention and innovation in the healthcare field have had a significant impact on society. The award is open to any person who, through his or her life's endeavors, has demonstrated significant and lasting contributions toward better health outcomes in federal medicine. The award is targeted toward demonstrated value delivered in health outcomes, rather than purely academic achievement. Therefore, nominees are expected to have demonstrated tangible and persistent contributions that led toward improved health outcomes in an identifiable group of individuals. A significant career span is required for this award recipient. Contributions should be recognized at local, national and international levels.

Individual Professional Awards

Individual awards are designed to recognize recent accomplishments (past 12-18 months) or past accomplishments whose impact has been recently felt.

Nominees may be current AMSUS members or individual who are currently, or have at any time been, associated with a federal health agency or the Department of Veterans Affairs or individuals of the military medical services of other nations.

Nominators may be anyone involved in federal medicine. Self-nominations are not allowed.

Nominations are open to any federal healthcare worker from the Army, Navy, Air Force, USPHS, Veterans Affairs, Homeland Security, Health and Human Services and the Uniformed Services University.

Individual Award Judgement Criteria

The following individual awards will be judged by the criteria:

Functional Mission Award Judgement Criteria

The following individual awards will be judged by the criteria:

1. Significant accomplishment(s) in the last 12-18 months warranting AMSUS recognition.
2. Evidence that those accomplishments had a meaningful impact on their mission or organization.

Award Categories

Operational Medicine Award - recognizes an individual who has provided outstanding healthcare service or support in an operational unit or deployed status. Evidence that the accomplishments or positive impacts affect an operational unit's readiness or actually support in an operational deployed environment.

William Gorgas Preventive Medicine Award – recognizes an individual for distinguished work in preventive medicine in the area of clinical application, education or research.

Research & Development Award - recognizes an individual that has made a significant discovery or contribution in federal, Public Health or VA health research and development.

Training and Education Award - recognizes an individual whose contribution in healthcare education and training and has positively impacted the federal, Public Health or VA healthcare system.

Military Medicine Article of the Year Award - The Military Medicine Article of the Year Award is given to the lead author of an article published in the official AMSUS journal, Military Medicine, during the previous calendar year. No nominations are accepted for this award. All articles appearing in Military Medicine in the previous calendar year are automatically considered. The AMSUS Editorial Board will review all articles and recommend the top candidate articles to the Editor for final consideration. Principal criteria used by the members of the Editorial Board and the Editor in judging the published manuscripts from the preceding year are that the article is hypothesis driven and based upon original research. If the author is not a current AMSUS member, eligibility for membership must be documented.
